

FORERUNNER OF FREIGHT SERVICE

Belgian Ship L'Avenir Is Training for Navy Officers

As a forerunner of what is destined to become a great merchant marine service under the banner of Belgium, the four-masted bark L'Avenir, as fine a vessel as has ever entered this port, will remain here until after the Fourth of July, before resuming her round-the-world cruise by the way of San Francisco.

It was the late King Leopold of Belgium that realized the great possibilities of a big merchant marine for his kingdom. Five years ago the little country, a veritable hive of industry, touching upon the North Sea and adjoining the Netherlands, had no vessels sailing the seas bearing its national colors.

To meet the requirements for such a service, the wise ruler of that manufacturing beehive of Northern Europe saw the necessity of a suitable training of its young men for a life at sea.

Three training ships were soon placed in commission, and the L'Avenir, now at Honolulu, represents the third and last vessel of this type in the service of that government.

The L'Avenir is in all respects a training ship for cadets, who, upon completion of their four years' term of instruction, are eligible to positions as chief officer on the already increasing number of large freight steamers flying the Belgian flag.

These young men have but to pass an examination that will land them in command of Belgian steamships. On board the L'Avenir are youths who have served several years' apprenticeship on the L'Isle and also the Ville d'Ostende.

Before joining either of these vessels the applicant for instruction is placed on board a stationary ship which has remained at the port of Antwerp for several years. This vessel is known as the Comte de Nayer, and is a conspicuous figure in the shipping of the great maritime center of Northern Europe.

There are numbered among the cadets now visiting Honolulu men who have less than a year to serve on the training ship before they will be transferred to vessels now awaiting trained officers.

The training ship is on her second cruise. This voyage is one of mixed business, instruction as well as pleasure. It is the intention of the government that these vessels pay their expenses as far as possible, and with that end in view the training ships such as the L'Avenir accept and carry such cargo as they can gather at the ports of call.

In this instance, the Belgian ship arrived here with thirty-three hundred tons of coal taken on board at Newcastle, N. S. W. This fuel is now being discharged here and the revenue derived from its transportation will materially assist in covering the expenditure incurred in the passage up from the Antipodes. L'Avenir is a four-masted bark, built at Bremerhaven, Germany, in 1905, by the Rickmers, owners of the ship Renee Rickmers, which lies on the opposite side of the ship. This is her second voyage, the first one having been to South America, South Africa and Australia. On this trip she was delayed at Newcastle four and a half months on account of the coal strike, awaiting a cargo.

L'Avenir is a handsome vessel of

A crown of glory—is a beautiful head of hair. An Australian lady writes under date Jan. 28, 1907:

"Ayer's Hair Vigor has done my hair a world of good. It is now thick, glossy, and soft, and when plaited is 65 inches long. Ayer's Hair Vigor ought to be used by every woman who takes pride in her appearance."

You also may have such a crown of glory if you will follow the example of this lady and use

It will remove all dandruff and make your hair rich and abundant.

That it is the right policy is proven by the fact that the sales of Ivory Soap grow greater, year by year.

2100 tons gross, and has a length of 300 feet over all, with 48-foot beam, and when loaded is 231-2 feet draft. Her decks are fitted with the finest gear, including winches. The long afterdeck overtops the quarters of the officers, petty officers and cadets. There are dining cabins for each mess. The petty officers on this vessel have a mess of their own.

The L'Avenir sailed from Antwerp the first part of August, 1909, and her first port visited was Montevideo. The vessel carried a full cargo to South America. From there she proceeded in ballast to Port Adelaide, South Australia. This trip was made in ballast. The next move was towards Newcastle, N. S. W., where the vessel finally succeeded in securing a shipment of coal for the Hawaiian Islands.

The training ship, of course, comes in under the existing coastwise regulations, which do not permit of her taking on cargo at Honolulu destined for the west coast of the United States.

Captain Zander, a delightful person to meet, is in command of the vessel. He has an able lieutenant in Chief Officer Kranzlin. The other members of the staff include Second Officer Lemaitre, Third Officer Aspasagh, Fourth Officer Meuleneester, Priest Walravens, Dr. Luyssen, Professors Dollo and Laureys.

In the ship's company are fifteen cadets, eight petty officers, eighteen men, ten boys, two cooks and a baker.

DR. WHITE'S FIRST SERMON

Dr. White, who has come to fill the pulpit at the Central Union church during the absence of Dr. Scudder, preached his first sermon in that church last evening, and the largest audience that ever passed in side the doors listened to a well-delivered discourse.

The subject of Dr. White's sermon was "The Good Fellow and the Good Man." The subject was handled in a most masterly and interesting way and held the audience to the end.

In closing his sermon, Dr. White said: "The difference between the mere good fellow and the good man may be distilled into one word—God. The typical good fellow has little use for God. The genuine good man has all use for God. The good fellow is Godless, the good man is God-filled, God-guided, God-ruled and God-inspired. It takes little to make a fellow, it takes God to make a man."

GREAT SHOW AT ALOHA PARK TOMORROW NIGHT

Tommy Burns and Bill Lang to Box
Fifteen Rounds—Good Preliminary Arranged For, Also.

Now that all the arrangements for the boxing contest between Bill Lang and Tommy Burns are complete, and a good preliminary settled on, it is to be hoped that rain or some other unforeseen pillikla does not spoil the show.

The Marana should arrive tomorrow some time, and then in the evening at the Aloha Park, the greatest exhibition of boxing ever seen in Hawaii will be staged. Burns is too well known to need any introduction, and his work in the ring will be watched with interest. Lang, who holds the Australian championship, will make Burns extend himself, and some really clever work should be seen tomorrow night.

Young Gans and Johnson will have an opportunity to show what they can do, and as the eyes of the former world's champion will be on them, they will surely do their level best.

If Unholz is on the steamer he may go on with someone, and the show would be lengthened out a lot. As it is now, fifteen rounds between Burns and Lang, and the preliminary, should be enough for any of the flimsy sports. Tickets are on sale at Fitzpatrick's cigar store and they are selling at a very rapid rate.

OUTRIGGER SHOW WILL BE GOOD JULY FOURTH

Many New Canoes for Club—Royals Will Do Cakewalk—Big Regatta Planned.

Charles Royal and his clever little wife Miss Elliott are making great preparations for their big company to appear at the Outrigger club on the Fourth. There will be a rehearsal of the Cakewalk, one of the big features of the show; at the Royal Hawaiian hotel tomorrow, Tuesday afternoon at four thirty o'clock. A number of couples are already under rehearsal, but there is room for more, and the Royals will be pleased to teach their clever steps to those who wish to join the dance and learn them.

The beach is coming back to the Outrigger grounds and a number of new canoes are being added to the Outrigger fleet. One result of the Kamehameha regatta is seen in the renewed interest taken by the girl surfers. Yesterday there was a canoe load of girl paddlers out in the big surf, while in the lagoon young Sam Carter was teaching his little sister Sybil to sail an Outrigger canoe. The boys are all getting ready for the big regatta on the Fourth, and they will all be on hand for Royal's big show in the evening.
